House Resolution No. 13—Relative to Elder and Vulnerable Adult Abuse Awareness Month.

- 1 WHEREAS, Elder and vulnerable adult abuse is a crime and a
2 serious and growing crisis in California; and 3 WHEREAS, Not a day goes by without reports of horrific cases
4 of abuse or exploitation of older or vulnerable adults; and 5 WHEREAS, Throughout the United States, 10,000 people a day
6 are turning 65 years of age; and 7 WHEREAS, One in every eight individuals over 65 years of 8 age is living with Alzheimer’s disease and one in every 76
9 Californians has a disorder on the Autism Spectrum. The rapid 10 growth of special populations like these that are in need of 11 enhanced protection will further challenge the overwhelmed 12 vulnerable adult protection system; and 13 WHEREAS, Older and vulnerable adults may be impacted by 14 any of a constellation of physical, mental, pharmaceutical, or 15 medical influences that could render them unable to self-advocate, 16 to report, or to testify; and 17 WHEREAS, At least 2 percent, and as many as 10 percent, of 18 the elder and vulnerable adult population in California are abused, 19 molested, injured, exploited, or scammed each year; and 20 WHEREAS, The incidence of abuse and exploitation of the 21 developmentally disabled population is shocking. Over 80 percent 22 of women with developmental disabilities and over 30 percent of

1 men with developmental disabilities are sexually abused at least 2 once during their lifetime; and

3 WHEREAS, Current estimates suggest that as few as one in 14
4 cases of elder and vulnerable adult abuse is reported, including 5 fewer than one in 25 incidents of financial abuse, because the 6 victims are ashamed, hopeless, intimidated, or afraid of the abuser;
7 and

8 WHEREAS, A comprehensive central data repository of all 9 child abuse investigations has been in existence since 1965, but 10 no similar repository exists for investigations of crimes against 11 frail, elder, and vulnerable adults; and

12 WHEREAS, Even in the year 2011, with a booming and 13 exponentially expanding population of elder and vulnerable adults, 14 the state of California does not collect comprehensive data on 15 abuse cases, reports, or investigations. This inhibits the 16 government's ability to make informed decisions about improving
17 the existing reporting system, enhancing protections, or lending 18 law enforcement the tools necessary to ensure justice; and

19 WHEREAS, The lack of statewide elder abuse statistics prevents 20 policymakers from measuring the extent of these crimes and 21 tragedies. The lack of a single point of contact to report an incident 22 of abuse of and elder or vulnerable adult contributes to the current 23 climate of under reporting; and

24 WHEREAS, Elder and vulnerable adult abuse may be physical,
25 emotional, sexual, or fiduciary, and consists of crimes that know
26 no boundaries of economic or educational status, gender, race, 27 ethnicity, or geographic location; and

28 WHEREAS, Subtle indicators that abuse may be occurring
29 include bruises or pressure marks, unexplained withdrawal from 30 normal activities, a sudden change in alertness, unusual depression,
31 sudden changes in financial situations, strained or tense
32 relationships, or frequent arguments between a caregiver and a 33 client. Recognizing these signs is the first step toward the 34 prevention of elder and vulnerable adult abuse; and

35 WHEREAS, Elders and vulnerable adults have the right to live
36 safely in the least restrictive environment, whether in their homes
37 or health care facilities, and to enjoy an optimum quality of life 38 while being protected from all forms of abuse; and

39 WHEREAS, Private citizens and public agencies must work to 40 combat crime and violence against elders and vulnerable adults,

1 particularly in the face of continued funding reductions in vital 2 services; and

3 WHEREAS, All Californians are strongly encouraged to report
4 suspected abuse of an elder or vulnerable adult by calling their 5 local adult protective services agency, Long-Term Care
6 Ombudsman, law enforcement, or emergency services agencies;
7 now, therefore, be it
